"Organic fitness," or perfect teamwork between heart, respiration, cell-chemistry and blood, plays a leading role in what makes champion athletes believe Craig Taylor, Stanford University graduate in physiology. He and Robert Morris, another student, have designed an "ergometer," which by dials determine the horsepower output of one pumping the bicycle-like affair. The copper helmet allows measuring intake of air for breathing and analysis of exhaled air for oxygen depletion and carbon dioxide production. Taylor is shown making heart action tests while Morris is the athlete under test.

Ex-Governor In Come-Back Try

PIERRE, S. D., May 4.—(UP)—Tom Berry, the former "cowboy governor," making good his promise of a political comeback, appeared certain winner today in the Democratic primary contest for nomination to the U. S. Senate.

Returns indicated that he will oppose Chandler Gurney, Yankton oil man, apparent winner of the Republican nomination, in the November election.

With 1468 of the state's 1958 precincts reported, Berry had 35,972 to 13,552 for Rep. Fred Hildebrandt. Sen. Herbert Hitchcock, the incumbent whom Berry appointed, had 7973.

Results in the Republican contest gave Gurney 41,844. Gov. Leslie Jensen, who met opposition within his own party for asserted leanings toward Roosevelt policies, had 33,376.

HORSE SHOW ATTRACTS THROGS AS ORANGE CELEBRATION ENDS

Last night brought to a close festivities which have marked the celebration of the founding of Orange 50 years ago. Clothing of past decades, worn for the last two days by many residents, has been put away until another May Day rolls around, a day observed in Orange to commemorate pioneer times and which this year was combined with the Golden Jubilee celebration.

Outstanding in the day's events was the horseshow staged at the high school grounds with several thousand persons in attendance. More than a million dollars was represented in horses and equipment according to an announcement made at the show's opening. In charge of the event were M. E. "Dick" Jones, Peirry Grout and T. H. Ellijah.

Colorful Equipment

A grand entry opened the event with more than 100 horses taking part. Miss Marion Hayes of West Arcadia headed the riders. She was mounted on a palomino horse which she rode without a saddle.

Predict War On Unionism

NLRB RAPPED BY KNUDSEN

WASHINGTON, May 4.—(UP)—William S. Knudsen, president of the General Motors Corporation, predicted in a speech to the annual meeting of the United States Chamber of Commerce today, that the federal government eventually would have to take a stand against industrial unionism because it exists "on forces in defiance of the law."

He accused the National Labor Relations Board of bias and charged that the Wagner labor act had dispelled equality under the law.

"Sit-Downs" Rapped

"The industrial union in its present form has to depend on force in defiance of law," he said. "There are not many places in the United States at the moment where laws can be enforced to control the movement."

"The technique of the sit-down strikers is identical with that of the syndicalists of Europe. France has finally had to take a stand against them because of the dangers of a political club rather than a social defensive weapon. I feel confident that the United States will eventually take the same stand officially."

Knudsen addressed 2500 delegates to the convention after other speakers, including Sen. Edward R. Burke, D., Neb., had demanded the

Guild Ban Hit By AFL Head

WASHINGTON, May 4.—(UP)—President William Green of the American Federation of Labor said today that banning of newspapermen "because of their affiliation or non-affiliation" with the American Newspaper Guild "interferes with the principle of freedom of the press, which should be maintained at any cost."

He would not comment directly, however, on the action of the A. F. of L.'s Washington Central Labor union in banning Guild reporters from its meetings.

Green said he "would be opposed to the exclusion of representatives of any newspaper from press conferences because of their affiliation or non-affiliation" with any labor group.

"Poisoner" Given Lease On Life

COLUMBUS, O., May 4.—(UP)—Mrs. Anna Marie Hahn's new lease on life, granted 28 hours before she was to have been electrocuted for murder, may extend the rest of this year, her attorney said today.

Chief Justice Earl V. Weygant of the Ohio supreme court, permitted her case to be appealed to the U. S. Supreme court after a hearing yesterday. The U. S. court's decision may not be announced before October and even if it sustains the verdict, a new execution date will have to be set for Mrs. Hahn.

She was convicted of poisoning an old man after inducing him to make a will in her favor. She was suspected of having murdered several other men in the same manner. She had been scheduled to die tonight.

S. A. Cooking School Open

Hundreds of Santa Ana and Orange county women today thronged to the West Coast Theatre, which at 1:30 p. m. had been thoroughly converted into a huge classroom auditorium for the opening session of the Register's great annual cooking school.

Interest and enthusiasm was manifested in the buzz of excitement and animated conversation about the "Happy Kitchen" that took place before the appearance of Miss Eulita D. Hogle, home economist and lecturer, who will be master of ceremonies at the three-day session, which lasts through Friday.

Enthusiastic Audience

Enthusiasm of the women attending the cooking school appeared to extend not only to the opportunity for knowledge of cookery, without cost, but also to the valuable prizes to be awarded to those attending the school.

Merchants of the city have co-operated with Miss Hogle and The Register by bringing the best of

SOLONS IN MOVE TO FORCE WAGES BILL

WASHINGTON, May 4.—(UP)—House wage-hour bill advocates put new pressure today on their

to sweep the controversial wages-hours regulatory bill to the floor by petition.

They took fresh confidence in prospects for obtaining signatures of 218 members to a vote-forcing petition in view of the Florida primary victory of Sen. Claude Pepper, a Senate wages-hours supporter.

The bill's steering committee conferred with Chairman John L. Lewis of the Committee for Industrial Organization and obtained from Lewis a promise to send a telegram to each house member urging signature of the petition.

President William Green of the American Federation of Labor has started similar action.

Despite pressure behind the wage-hour drive experienced house members continued to express doubt that the bill would reach the floor.

However, Eli Oliver, executive vice president of labor's non-partisan league, predicted the bill would get the necessary 218 signatures by Friday afternoon.

Chairman Mary T. Norton of the house labor committee will file the vote-forcing petition Friday.

"Rome Axis On Decline"

LONDON, May 4.—(UP)—Italian Fascist sources said today, as the ears of Premier Benito Mussolini and Fuehrer Adolf Hitler rang to the cheers of scores of thousands of people, that the "Rome-Berlin axis" had reached its zenith and that the future would witness its decline.

This was not in accord with official statements but the United Press advised, which were from high Italian sources, said that nevertheless it was the fact.

Found Axis Useful

Mussolini, the informants said, had found the axis very useful during the troubled period immediately after the Ethiopian war and during the most dangerous days of the Spanish civil war.

But since Hitler's absorption of Austria, they added, he has been wondering whether Germany's expanding power did not constitute a menace to Italy's position, especially in the Adriatic and in southeastern Europe. Moreover, on the Italian side of the Brenner Pass, the Alpine gateway between Italy

Stabilization Of Franc Sought

PARIS, May 4.—(UP)—The Bourse went up today on unofficial reports that the government had decided to stabilize the franc at 180 to the pound sterling and 36 to the dollar as soon as the United States and Great Britain approve under terms of the tripartite accord.

A 36 to the dollar parity would give the franc an American equivalent of 2,777 cents. The franc at the opening today was quoted at 33.18 to the dollar (3,014 cents).

The rumor circulated after a meeting of the cabinet under President Albert Lebrun.

The cabinet announced only that it had taken "an important decision concerning defense of the franc." Some observers saw the meeting as a sequel to monetary conversations at Washington and London yesterday.

PREVENTABLE ACCIDENTS ARE STUDIED AT RED CROSS MEET

Santa Ana and Orange county delegates at the national convention of the American Red Cross in San Francisco joined with others today in turning from discussion of disaster and relief and devoted themselves to a study of the preventable suffering of automobile accidents, described by speakers as "one of the greatest problems confronting the American people."

Charles H. Hunt, member of the executive committee of the Long Beach chapter, told convention delegates that "not in adults, but in the youth of the country, lies the realization of safety habits and safety consciousness."

Safety Habits

"We are so used to statistics on violent deaths," Hunt said, "that it is most difficult to get the adult population to drive, act and live safely. We can develop in the lives of the coming generations safety habits that will make them naturally do the safe thing."

Mrs. Helen Beck Leighton of North Hollywood, Calif., daughter of Beck, charged that Miss Schrein pawned the jewelry for $2000 after it had been entrusted to her care. Miss Schrein allegedly lost the money betting on horse races.

Cites Relief Problem

Gov. He said the state probably will spend about $25,000,000 for relief during the coming fiscal year.

Ray Lyman Wilbur, Stanford University president, emphasized the strategic position of the Red Cross in relation to public health and safety.

County Delegates

The delegates from this locality are:

Anaheim chapter: Mrs. H. W. Saulsbury and Rev. R. A. Dow, of Anaheim.

Northern Orange county chapter: Mrs. Edith Currie, Fullerton; the Rev. and Mrs. Jack Brigham, Placentia, and Irene Preble, Etiel.

Carnie told the Free-Lance he had been robbed of four dollars. He said doctors at the hospital put two stitches in a scalp wound.

Carnie said he picked up the two hitch-hikers a short distance from Hollister while he was en route to San Juan Bautista last night.

Midway between Hollister and his destination, one of the two men drew a gun and ordered him to drive to King City. They forced him to get into the turtle-back compartment in the rear of the car.

Reporter Slugged

Heading down the coast highway to Los Angeles, the captors drove night-long, finally stopping at Latigo Canyon, near Malibu Beach, beach resort home of many Hollywood movie stars.

There they forced him out of the car, Carnie said, slugged him, then rolled him down the steep bank of the canyon. One of the men shot at him as he tumbled down the bank, he reported, but the aim was wild.

SACRAMENTO, Cal., May 4. (UP) — Any new-pasteboard license plates.

The inauguration of white pasteboard plates with red numerals was announced today by the department of motor vehicles to supplement emergency windshield stickers for all motor vehicles on which registration is pending.

Expiration dates will be stamped on the plates and each serial number is preceded by the initials "AB." The plates are for the rear of the car.

with his exhibition of fancy driving with a six-horse team of Belgian draft horses which have captured blue ribbons from coast to coast.

An interesting exhibition was put on with stock horses, stopping, wheeling, roping and standing being demonstrated. Billy Whitehead was winner of a $25 prize, with Bill Goodman on Mrs. Mabel Yorba's horse, Nona, winning second prize. An exciting moment was provided for the spectators when young Whitehead's mount slipped on the turf and fell with her rider without harm to either.

Boy Beats Horse

In the man against horse race, Bob Flitschen, light weight sprinter of the Orange Union high school was winner. A tug of war between four horses and four men on a side resulted in the victory for a team captained by Bill Jones, president of the El Rodeo club.

Grammar school boys engaged in a horse and rider stunt with half of the boys acting as horses and half as riders. The larger boys carried the smaller boys on their backs. Riders attempted to unseat one another with the result that the last two on the field were Wiley Hoffman as horse and Fred Medina as rider. A two dollar prize was the reward.

In the model palomino class, the winner was "El Moreno," owned by Jack Davis, the horse taking honors from a group of 14 competitors. Several of the entries were from San Diego.

In the boys' potato race Gilbert Black was winner. Hazel Whitehead won the ladies' race around a turn stake.

Awards Presented

Mrs. John Scripps of Santa Ana, judged the three-gaited horses with first place going to Miss Virginia Crabtree of San Diego. Jumping Dutchman, the horse she rode also won first place in the jumping events. Clint Brush and his educated horse gave an exhibition and cowboy singers provided entertainment between events.

At the city park during the afternoon the rose garden of the Garden section of the Orange Woman's club was dedicated with an appropriate ceremony conducted by Mrs. C. O. Oldfield, who originated the section now numbering nearly 100 members.

A roque contest was underway with teams from Long Beach, Santa Ana and Orange. Santa Ana won on games and the highest individual score was made by A. C. Bartlett of Long Beach. Two teams from each club took part and players from Santa Ana were Oscar Shrivers, John Kellogg, John Doberman "Doc" Dickson, John Meller and Fred Johnson; Long Beach, Ed Dunn, F. S. Washburn, C. F. Goettl, C. A. Barlett, and M. B. Lecher; from Orange were W. F. Crist, E. E. Gould, Frank Mellor, Charles Hibbens, R. L. Stoddard and Frank Brown.

Horse Shoe Contest

A horse shoe contest between Anaheim and Tustin players resulted in Anaheim making 682 points and Tustin 329. Anaheim players were captained by T. E. Stoll and Tustin by G. E. Hatfield. Archery contests were underway under the direction of Carol Merrick. The youngest archer was Loyd Cole, 13 years of age and the oldest Lee Barnett, 72, of El Modena. In the senior division Ed Gautein was winner with a score of 457, Bob Masters second with a score of 447 and Carol Merrick third. In the women's division Mrs. Carol Merrick made high score of 217. Miss Eldene Watson second with a score of 187 and Mrs. Mary Alice Wallace third, with a score of 151.

In the junior division Loyd Cole made high score making 317 points in the American round.

Dock Workers In Bay City Riot

when 75 dock workers who had passed through the sailors' picket line were summoned by their president, Henry Schmidt, to disperse the pickets.

Police Called

A riot call brought police squads and the fighters were quelled.

Thirty sailors had been picketing the pier. Approximately 90 C.I.O. longshoremen went unmolested through the lines to handle cargo of the Sage Brush, which had been declared "hot" by the sailors.

An hour later Schmidt warned the pickets:

"Take a walk or we'll walk you."

The pickets remained firm.

The sailors had been picketing at work inside the pier.

Approximately 75 stevedores and crew members poured out of the pier, slugging as they ran.

The sailors, bolstered by a few reinforcements, fought back, but they were overwhelmed by the heavier charging force.

Second Riot

The longshoremen chased them a few blocks, then returned to work.

It was the second riot involving longshoremen and sailors within two weeks at the Shepard pier.

In the first fighting, more than 40 men were injured slightly in fist fighting when longshoremen broke up a sailor picket line established around the freighter Timber Rush.

The sailors have been picketing the Shepard boats in protest against hiring of Committee for Industrial Organization National Maritime Union crews.

The S. U. P. issued charges that Harry Bridges and the "C. I. O. wrecking forces" have opened National Maritime Union hiring halls in every Pacific coast port, that they aim "to supplant the sailors union which they can't control, with the N. M. U. which do control."

Charge Intimidation

The statement said that C. I. O. forces, beside routing S. U. P. picket lines "are patrolling the streets around sailors union halls in limousines packed with goons in an effort to intimidate and pay the way for sailors' firing halls."

Harry Lundeberg, secretary of the union, at the same time disclosed threats of a coastwide maritime tieup resulting from an embargo on cargoes diverted from the closed port of Tacoma, Wash.

The embargo was declared jointly by the Sailors Union and American Federation of Labor longshoremen.

A roque contest was underway with teams from Long Beach, Santa Ana and Orange. Santa Ana won on games and the highest individual score was made by A. C. Bartlett of Long Beach. Face Catastrophe

The law was passed upon the insistence of army leaders at the last session of parliament with the understanding that it would not be used during the present war unless Japan faced a potential catastrophe.

The act was invoked, according to the foreign observers, after Gen. Sugiyama, the Japanese war minister, flew to North China to determine for himself why the Japanese-Chinese campaign was not progressing according to plan.

Field commanders were said to have informed Sugiyama that to continue the drive through Southern Shantung Province, past the "impregnable" Lunghai railroad to the provisional capital of Hankow, would require a half million more soldiers than they had.

Heavy Casualties

The breakdown of the Japanese offensive was due to extremely heavy casualties, plus Japan's unwillingness to send more troops from Japan, it was said. The United Press bureau at Tientsin reported, however, that large Japanese reinforcements were landing there, presumably to bolster weakened lines in Southern Shantung, where the Chinese again were on the offensive.

Foreign observers said that during the last two months the Japanese have lost around 1000 square miles of territory.

Japanese Weakened

In addition, the Chinese guerrilla fighting organization, operating with unparalleled coordination, had weakened the Japanese rear lines to such an extent that a sustained Japanese frontal drive was impossible without heavy reinforcements.

The fighting in Southern Shantung was stalemated temporarily but Chinese guerrilla forces, aided by regular army units, took the offensive in the Peiping area and claimed substantial gains. They said that many villages within 15 miles of Peiping had been reoccupied, including Liangshian, from where Japanese-controlled provisional authorities fled.

The action came shortly after the labor section of the chamber of commerce of the United States demanded a Congressional investigation of the NLRB and amendment of the Wagner act.

BAPTIST AIDS OUTLINED HERE

Two hundred active churchmen, representing Baptist congregations of a dozen communities forming the Santa Ana Valley Baptist Women's association, assembled yesterday in First Baptist church for the 45th annual meeting with its attendant election and fine program.

Mrs. W. A. Atkinson of this city, who has served so capably during the past year, not only conducted the day's meeting, but was returned to the presidency at the afternoon election. Her entire staff was returned to office with her, with one new office created, that of treasurer, filled by Mrs. Ruth Wilson, Anaheim. This post has been coupled with that of the secretary in previous years. The staff returned was made up of Mrs. Arthur Staley, Fullerton and Mrs. H. L. Gilman, Rivera, first and second vice presidents; Mrs. Clyde Cave, Santa Ana, secretary.

Area Churches Take Part
Dedication ceremonies which concluded the day's program, were conducted by Mrs. L. C. Fairbanks of this city, president of the state board of Baptist Women's association.

Churches represented were those of Anaheim, Brea, Downey, Fullerton, Garden Grove, Huntington Beach, La Habra, Montebello, Orange, Rivera, Whittier and Santa Ana. Miss Mildred Marchant was at the organ for all musical features of the day, and accompanied guest artists. These were Mary Battie Steffenson and Laura Joins who sang a duet, "In the Garden," during the morning program, and Miss Beulah Parker, who sang "Stained Glass Window" in the afternoon.

Miss Mary Butler, young missionary to Managua, Nicaragua, for the past three years, was introduced as morning speaker, telling many interesting things about her missionary station.

Theme Is Developed
Women of the host church were hostesses at the mid-day luncheon served in the church dining room, and followed by a resumption of the program. Mrs. Harry Evan Owings, wife of the pastor of the host church, conducted a devotional meditation on "Peace." The past year's program theme of Windows, was developed on reports by the two vice presidents, Mrs. Staley and Mrs. Gilman and by directors representing the dozen churches of the association.

"Building Bridges," the theme adopted for the coming year, was illustrated by the fine address by Mrs. W. E. Boyer of Los Angeles, first vice president under Mrs. Fairbanks on the state board. Mrs. Earl Morris presented the report of the resolutions committee. Most important of these was the co-operation pledge to local motion picture managers in abolishing the block-book system, and support of the measures of Allied Dry Forces of California, to appear on the November ballot: advertising sale of liquors; prohibiting liquor traffic near schools, and the alcoholic liquor rehabilitation fund.

Without Laxatives—and You'll Eat

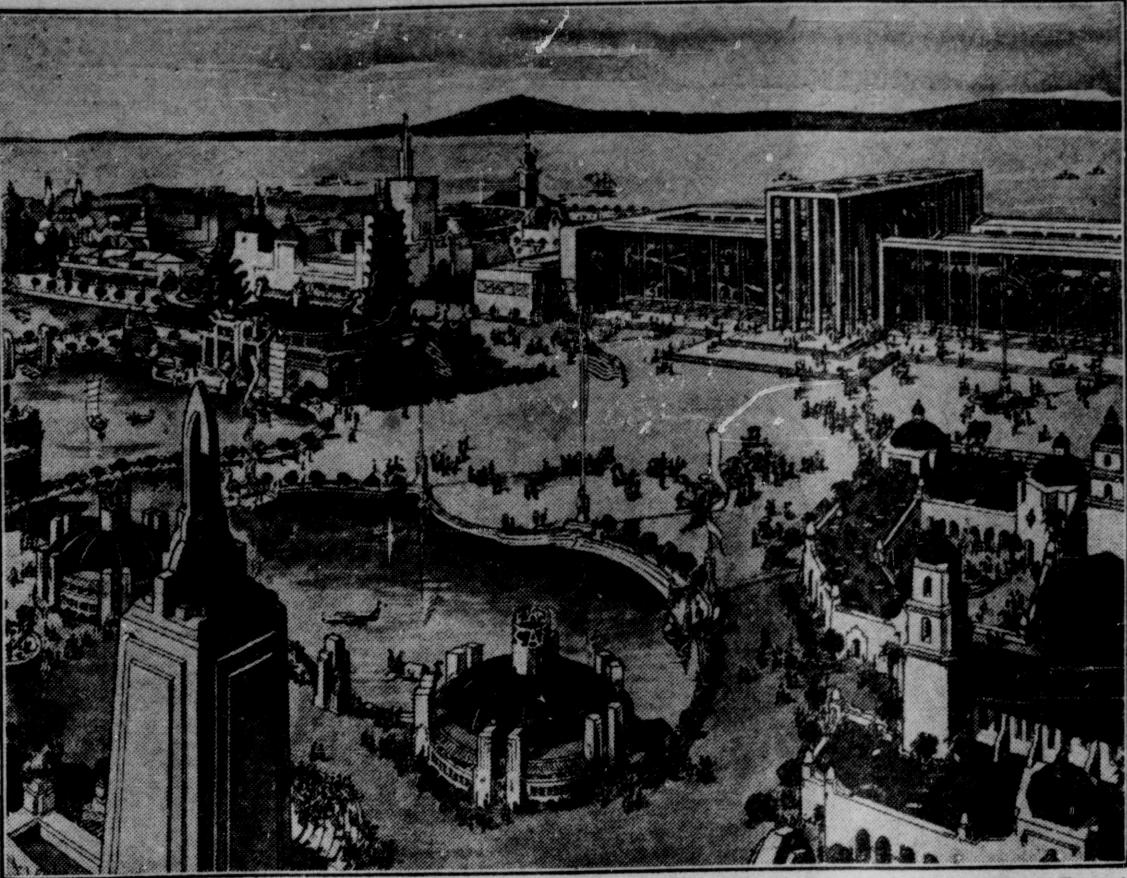

Everything from Soup to Nuts

The stomach should digest two pounds of food daily. When you eat heavy, greasy, coarse or rich foods, or when you eat too much, your stomach pores out too much fluid. Your food doesn't digest and you have gas, heartburn, indigestion, and a sore stomach. You feel sour, sick and upset all over.

Doctors say never take laxatives. It takes these little black tablets called Bell-ans for indigestion to make the excess stomach fluids harmless, relieve heartburn, and give you a full, healthy meal.

Relief is so quick it is amazing and one 25c package proves it. Ask for Bell-ans for indigestion.

'SHORT MOVES' HELD CAUSE OF CHIEF S. A. PARKING ENIGMA

Much of the parking problem in Santa Ana is due to workers and employers in the downtown area keeping their cars on the city streets during the day and avoiding arrest by moving them before the parking time limit is reached.

This was the observation of a committee of parking lot owners meeting yesterday at the Santa Ana Chamber of Commerce with members of the retail division and the parking committee for the lot owners stated that the use of parking lots by Santa Anans is on the increase. Last year only 10 per cent of the business of the lots came from residents of the city while this year, so far, it has increased to 25 per cent.

No action was taken at the meeting yesterday except that the parking lot owners, headed by M. Michels, will submit a report to the chamber giving information concerning the amount of space available in city parking lots and monthly prices to downtown workers.

Following receipt of the report, a committee composed of Ivie Stein, of the retail division; E. M. Sundquist, chairman of the parking committee; and Howard I. Wood, secretary, will attempt to work out a plan to submit to the city council that will assist in the parking situation.

MOVE TO SPEED 'JOBLESS CASH'

SACRAMENTO, Cal., May 4. (UPI)—Carl L. Hyde, executive officer of the Unemployment Relief Commission, today predicted that a new shortcut in procedure of paying jobless benefit claims will clear a jam of "frozen" claims within two weeks.

The commission adjourned last night after adopting an affidavit proposal to avoid technicalities that have held nearly 23,000 claims in suspension. The new system will be inaugurated as soon as forms can be printed and is expected to speed payment to applicants who did not meet the earnings requirement when they filed claims.

File Affidavits

Jobless benefit claimants who later earned sufficient to qualify for payment will be asked to file an affidavit concerning earnings and the department will then make payment without waiting for earnings reports from employers. The investigation will be completed at the department's leisure and anyone giving false information will be prosecuted.

Harvesting costs amount to 25 per cent of the total labor and material cost of producing walnuts, according to the walnut production cost analysis just completed by Farm Advisor Harold E. Wahlberg.

"The operation takes about a month, but during that period the grower can lose enough by slow operation to result in red ink for the season," Wahlberg said. "These facts have been amply demonstrated throughout Southern California."

The field day program will be held under the joint auspices of the agricultural extension service, and the walnut growers' division, edible nuts department, California Farm Bureau federation.

Irrigation, harvesting, pest control, delayed foliation and soil conservation will be other topics of discussion on the same program. A cafeteria lunch will be available at the San Fernando Valley Walnut Growers' field day May 20 near Zelzah in San Fernando valley.

It's news when a photographer snaps at a lion, and here's intrepid Frank Merta, cameraman for NEA Service, doing just that thing. Frank bucked his luck by going right into the cage of Leo, giant circus lion, and managed to bring himself back alive—with pictures. ROTARIANS INSPECT BAY AREA AS GUESTS OF BEACH BOOSTERS

While nearly 40 members and guests of the Santa Ana Rotary were hearing a talk by J. D. Crummey, president of the Food Machinery Corporation, at the Masonic Temple yesterday, another group of 50 members were on a 20 mile boat tour of the bay district, guests of the Newport-Balboa Chamber of Commerce.

President John McCoy presided at the Newport luncheon held at Wilson's cafe and introduced James B. Tucker, program chairman for the day. At the Santa Ana meeting, Wendell Finley, vice-president, presided.

The tour of the Bay district was under the supervision of Walter Spicer, president of the Newport-Balboa booster club; Harry Welch, secretary, and Tommy Boucher, harbor master.

Among the points of interest visited by the harbor delegation was the scene of a moving picture studio set that had been constructed in the bay at Corona Del Mar.

Mrs. Jean Robinson of Los Angeles, outlined modern methods of care for our modern fabrics from the standpoint of a textile chemist. Suggestions for laundering the various kinds of rayons, especially underwear, were given.

Investigation Urged

"Investigate before investing" was the message of Phil Brown, secretary of the Santa Ana Business Men's association. "Be careful of the clothing, lace and fur bargains which are so specially offered by the house to house salesman, since a large majority of them are not what they are represented to be", he said.

As a special feature, 55 women who attended the dressmaking schools in the eight department centers during March were presented in a dress review as a climax to the educational program. Spice was added to the program in the form of group singing, led by Mrs. Mabel Spizzi, rural music supervisor, and the Garden Grove troopers, who presented a dance number.

BICYCLE RECOVERED

A bicycle stolen from Roy Boyd of Santa Ana recently, was recovered at 6:30 p. m. yesterday by Officers George Boyd and Francis Norton. The officers found the bicycle on Standard street, just south of McFadden street, where it had been abandoned.

WAKE UP YOUR LIVER BILE—

Without Calomel—And You'll Jump Out of Bed in the Morning Rarin' to Go

The liver should pour out two pounds of liquid bile into your bowels daily. If this bile is not flowing freely, your food doesn't digest. It just stays in the body and has to go to your stomach. You get constipated. Your whole system is poisoned and you feel sour, and the world looks puny.

A mere half pound of bile doesn't get all the job. It takes those good old Carter's Little Liver Pills to get these two pounds of bile flowing freely and make you feel "up and up." Harmless, gentle, yet amazing in making bile flow freely. Ask for Carter's Little Liver Pills by name. 25c. Stubbornly refuse anything else.

'BIG RUSH' OF TWO MOTORISTS MAY COST COUNTY JAIL TERM

Arrested on charges they drove their cars 60 miles per hour in a 45-miles-per-hour zone on Harbor boulevard between the Santa Ana river bridge and Adams road, James B. Boyd, 30, 217 South Coast boulevard, Laguna Beach and Robert L. Dickerson, 25, Pomona, today faced possibility of serving terms of five days each in county jail.

Dickerson, who said he was "in a hurry to go fishing," was arrested at 1:25 p. m. April 28, by California Highway Officer John Turner. Boyd said he was "in a hurry to make a delivery at Garden Grove" when arrested at 11:05 a. m. April 29, by the same officer. Judge Kenneth Morrison is scheduled to handle both charges in Santa Ana justice court next Monday at 10 a. m.

Furnishes $100 Bond

Judge Morrison has made it his usual practice to send speeders who travel 60 miles per hour, or faster, to jail for five-day terms.

Manuel Rocha, 23, bartender at 901 East Fourth, last night was ordered to furnish $100 bail to guarantee his appearance before Justice O. F. Parish of Bakersfield on a reckless driving charge, outgrowth of an accident on Wheeler Ridge, April 28 at 12:40 a. m. The arresting officer also charged Rocha with driving on the wrong side of the highway. Rocha, the officer said, apparently fell asleep at the wheel of his car before it collided with a car operated by H. Nelson, Los Angeles. Rocha's car skidded 200 feet before striking the Nelson car, the officer alleged.

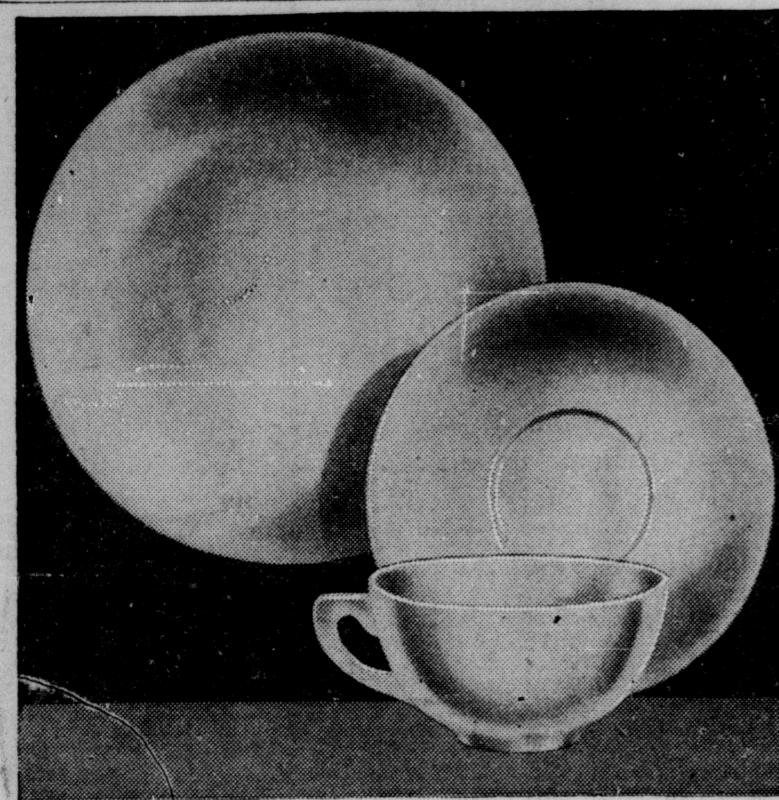

Today the finest airports have runways a mile or more in length.

ANNUAL JAYSEE AWARDS MADE

For the third time in the last four years Anaheim Union High school's weekly Anoranco took first honors in Santa Ana Junior college's annual newspaper contest by annexing the title of being the best all-around county prep school paper. The editors were given permanent possession of El Don's plaque at the fifth annual journalism banquet last night.

The Anoranco has won this award every year it has been offered with the exception of 1936 when the Orange Reflector was named the best weekly. The contest began in 1935. At the same time, the school paper garnered an award for the best feature story written this semester.

Other Honors Won

Other county high schools which received awards included the Brea-Olinda High school Wildcat News, for the best local paper, the Tustin Broadcaster for the best news story, and the Capistrano Cougar Hi-Lights for the best editorial. Santa Ana High school's Generator received an award for the best sports story.

"The freedom of the press was created by the people for the people, not by newspaper," Ed Ainsworth, columnist and editorial writer for the Los Angeles Times, declared last night in his address before the 130 assembled guests.

"I don't believe there can ever be a suppression of what we call freedom of the press in this country," Ainsworth remarked, in referring to the creation of this freedom.

Stresses Enthusiasm

To the young future newspaper people assembled at Ebell club house, the columnist explained that one must be enthusiastic about his work or he shouldn't be a reporter. Harry Carr, he said, was the best reporter California has produced because he was interested in his work.

News transmission, reception, and reaction is important in history, Ainsworth declared.

Gives El Don Keys

Judges for the high school newspaper contest were Eleanor Young Elliott of the Santa Ana Register; Verner C. Beck, Laguna Beach South Coast News, and Paul Wright, Santa Ana.

Journalism Director John H. McCoy presided at the meeting and presented El Don keys to editors who have served the past year on the college paper. Those receiving keys were Ed Velarde, present editor; Vic Rowland, first semester editor; Oscar Lieffers, feature editor; Mary Knoche and Eleanor Brady, society editors; and Jack Gardner, sport editor.

Special Rewards

Special El Don awards were also made to members of the college reporting class. Betty Frye was awarded a prize for the woman student giving the most outstanding service to El Don, while Carroll Richardson was presented the same award for the men. For showing the greatest improvement the last year, Ruth Lehnhardt also received an award. Director D. K. Hammond made the presentations.

Additional entertainment was provided for the occasion by the Russell Thompson Hawaiian trio, in several characteristic Island melodies, and by Robert Brown, baritone, with Miss Ruth Armstrong, accompanist. His solos were "Shipmates" and the Kipling "Mother o' Mine."

YELLOWSTONE NATIONAL PARK IS NOW OPEN

With the snowplows in Yellowstone Park having opened the road to the west entrance at West Yellowstone and the section to Old Faithful, motorists will be admitted at the north and west gates beginning today. They will be able to visit the main points of interest at Mammoth Hot Springs, Old Faithful, Canyon, Lake, Tower Falls and the Buffalo Ranch, according to Superintendent Edmund B. Rogers.

Plows At Work

By May 25 the east and south gate roads should be cleared of snow and travel will be admitted through these entrances, while the northeast entrance road from Red Lodge to Cooke should be negotiable by the first of June. By the latter date all of the main points of interest on the park highway system should be accessible.

Accommodations Open

The road from Old Faithful to West Thimble, the last of the one-way roads on the grand loop, are open for the two-way travel.

Living accommodations, supplies and automotive fuel will be available for early comers, the Park Service announces.

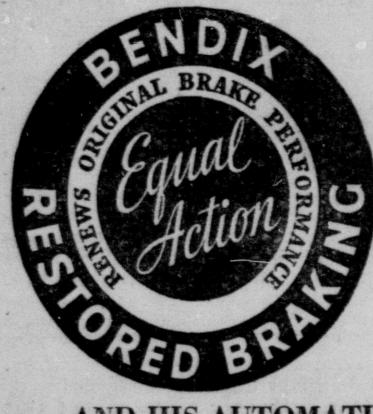

Persons contemplating coming to the park by rail will be able to reach the various entrances on June 20, on which date the transportation system in the park will begin operating its busses.

The fishing season in the park will open this year on May 23.

Hudson Announces New Deluxe Series

Presenting many refinements in quality and equipment, Hudson announces a new deluxe model of the new Hudson 112 in the lowest price field. New beauty is carried back throughout the interior by means of a harmonizing coloring in the steering wheel, horn button, and instrument panel. An electric clock, radio, and oversized generator have been engineered for the car and can be installed as built-in units on order.

NEW MODEL BY HUDSON BRINGS LUXURY AND BEAUTY TO FIELD

Presenting many refinements in quality and equipment, Hudson announces a new de luxe model of the new Hudson 112 in the lowest price field. Luxuriously trimmed from the instrument panel to the rear window moulding, the new model offers added richness, combined with the well-known Hudson roominess, engine smoothness, exclusive safety brakes and other Hudson features. Shipments already are starting from the factory and the car soon will be displayed from coast to coast.

Hudson stylists have achieved a holted in fine quality Luster Boucle cloth with the door panels and sidewalls lined with plain weave boucle. New accessories include a built-in ash tray in the instrument panel and a sun visor for the driver.

Colors in a wide range, including several new shades introduced just for this Spring, are available on the DeLuxe Hudson 112. Available also are additional accessories such as electric clock, radio and oversized generator. These have been engineered for the car and can be installed as built-in units on order.

The new model is powered by the Hudson six-cylinder, 88-horsepower engine with 112-inch wheelbase. Bodies available include Brougham, Touring Brougham (with trunk), Sedan, Touring Sedan (with trunk), three-passenger Coupe, Convertible Coupe and Convertible Brougham.

The booklet is issued in connection with the recent introduction by the company of a new kind of tire incorporating a revolutionary development in tread design which is said by the manufacturer to give the tire the most positive non-skid and braking action so far developed.

Keeping your foot off the brake, turning the front wheels in the direction of the skid and stepping very lightly on the accelerator to get the wheels of the car turning on the road, is the best method of getting out of a skid, the booklet points out.

More important still, perhaps, are the pages devoted to instructions on how to avoid a skid. These cover conditions found on wet roads, icy roads, wet road shoulders, wet car tracks, on wet leaves, on a curve and when skidding conditions are produced by brake action.

An interesting description of the development of the non-skid properties of the new tire is also included.

NEW PAMPHLET IS PUBLISHED

"Quit Your Skidding," a new 32-page booklet on one of the most serious present day highway dangers just published by the B. F. Goodrich company is available to motorists of this area at the Goodrich Silvertown store, 101 North Broadway, it is announced by Hubert L. Brown, store manager.

Operations are ahead of schedule on construction of a four-lane divided highway over Cuesta grade on coast highway 101 in San Luis Obispo county, advises the Automobile Club of Southern California engineering department. Grading is 75 per cent complete.

The project, including a grade separation over the Southern Pacific tracks, is expected to be finished by October 11, 1938. Traffic is using the existing pavement except for about one and one-half miles where it passes through construction over surfaced and maintained passageways.

As of May 1, 1937, there were 16,052 active pilots licensed by the United States government. There were also 915 scheduled air transport pilots licensed.

WEEK'S AUTO PRODUCTION IS HIGHEST SINCE 1931 LEVEL

DETROIT—With operations back to normal following labor difficulties last week, car and truck production will increase to 67,494 units this week, compared with a revised figure of 66,005 units last week and 138,272 a year ago.

The week's total, representing another new high for 1938, brings April's total output to an estimated 252,688 units, or around 14,000 vehicles above the March total of 238,753.

Buick's return to full five-day operations, following shortage of bodies last week as a result of the Fisher Body (Flint) difficulties, will raise General Motors' total for the week to 26,479 units, compared with a revised figure of 24,629 last week and 53,762 last year. A slight increase is also noted in Chevrolet, which expects around 18,000 jobs this week. Buick has 3,373 scheduled; Oldsmobile and Pontiac about 1800 each, while Cadillac-LaSalle plans around 500 cars.

Ford production will remain at last week's mark, with 16,030 cars and trucks carded in five days, as against the same number a week ago and 34,875 a year ago.

Led by Plymouth's estimated 6,500 units, Chrysler divisions figure on 15,200 jobs for the current week, compared with a similar total last week and 24,300 last year at this time. Dodge has 5,400 carded; Chrysler around 1800 and De Soto expects its usual 1500 units.

"By the simple addition of a baby seat to your automobile's equipment you can assure yourself that baby will at least have a place to sit and won't be bouncing around on someone's lap," Rosenfeld stated recently.

The accessory is made so that it can be hung on the back of the front seat, either hanging into the rear compartment or suspended in front. Hung on the front side of the seat, the child is in easy reach of the driver. This makes it possible for the mother or father to take baby along without the assistance of another person to watch the child.

"Many of our customers have expressed their satisfaction with the comfortable baby seat. It is very simple to install or remove from the automobile because it merely hooks over the seat back and no fasteners are necessary to attach it."

Baby seats, along with thousands of other auto accessories are always a regular feature at the local Pep Boys store, 211 North Main street.

PARKING CHECK SPONSORED BY NATION GROUP

WASHINGTON, (D. C.), May 4.

A national survey to determine the extent and seriousness of the parking problem in the United States and to find out what cities and towns are doing to provide relief was announced today by the American Automobile association.

The investigation was ordered following an organization meeting of the new A.A.A. committee on parking and terminal facilities which is seeking ways and means of alleviating the distress caused by the woeful lack of adequate parking facilities.

At the preliminary session of the committee, just concluded in Washington, D. C., discussion centered largely on provision of off-street parking facilities and ways and means of financing such developments.

It was generally agreed that while the motorists have great interest in the solution of the parking problem, the matter is primarily one of community concern.

Derby Shapes Up As Cappers' Bad Dream

BY HENRY McLEMORE
(United Press Staff Correspondent)

LOUISVILLE, Ky.—As a member of the human race I have always staunchly maintained that human beings are better looking than horses.

Since coming to Louisville for the Kentucky Derby, however, my belief in this theory has been shaken. Is it possible that horses are more pleasing to the eye than men, women or children? I can only give you the facts which would substantiate this view.

In the past week the owners and trainers of the Derby horses have been forced to build fences and screens about the stables to prevent the horses from having to look at human beings. At first people were allowed to surround these famous horses and spend hours exchanging looks with them.

The people went away feeling quite all right. Looking at the horses didn't bother them. But not so the horses. The horses after a few hours of gazing at human beings were unable to eat or sleep.

Stagehand was badly upset. So was Bull Lea and Lawrin. As soon as the screens were put up, and they had only to look at the pleasing facial contours of other horses, their appetites returned and they slept like logs.

The more I think about it, the more I can understand how the horses felt. When a horse looks at another horse he isn't in danger of seeing long beards, bald heads, bifocal horn-rimmed glasses, and ear trumpets, or the latest and maddest in women's hats. Neither does he have to put up with an evil smelling pipe or cigar, red finger nails or freckles ill-concealed by smears of powder and paint.

Seriously, the fact that horses have had to look at human beings en masse for several hours at a stretch, may

POMONA DROPS SAINTS OUT OF BASEBALL RACE

Gone if not forgotten today were Santa Ana high schools hopes of a basketball championship.

Once a co-favorite in the Citrus Belt league, the Saints slipped right out of the pennant race at Clayton field yesterday when they were shut out by Pomona, 2 to 0. The Santa Anans were limited to four hits by Pitcher "Chuck" Burns, and never got a runner beyond second base.

The Cardinals made both their runs off "Hard Luck" Tommy Wilkins in the sixth of the seven-inning conflict.

Little Francis Monnie, Pomona's fleet second baseman, hit a sharp grounder back to Wilkins at Johnson. Johnson struck out. Hall dropped a Texas league single just out of Shortstop Pete Partida's reach. Monnie and Hall worked a double steal while Wilkins was fanning Powell, Pomona's clean-up hitter. When Keith Teitsworth clipped Monnie's first pitch into right for a clean hit both Monnie and Hall rang the bell.

Wilkins held the invaders to four walks, walked none and struck out 13 to Burns' 6, but the chunky Saint slabster got poor support and no hitting help at all. In fact, not a ball was driven out of the infield by the weak-hitting Santa Anans. Their four baseknocks were all of the infield variety.

The Saints meet San Bernardino here Friday. The game is important from San Bernardino's standpoint because the inlanders still have a chance to win the league title. Box score:

COACHING CHANGES

The annual spring turnover has started among Southern California's high school coaches...

First to go was Bill Maxwell of Redlands. He's newsworthy here because he coached football in the Citrus Belt league, one of Santa Ana's opponents. A former U.C.L.A. athlete, Maxwell is supposed to have been let out because he got up before a downtown service club, aired a personal opinion that Redlands had no business in the C.B.L. Real reason, they say, was that Maxwell just didn't fit into Redlands' scheme of things.

Bigger surprise was Glenn Brodrick's "resignation" at San Diego, one of the sweetest coaching jobs in the state, where material is usually big and plentiful. Brodrick had coached football there four years, track ever since Tex

LUTHERAN CHURCH RECEIVES NEW CHIMES FROM ENGLAND

ORANGE, May 4.—The 11 bells purchased by Immanuel Lutheran church arrived yesterday at Wilmington and were delivered this afternoon. The bells, chimes, costing $7000, were cast at Croydon, England by the Taylor Bell company.

A Los Angeles concern has been engaged to raise the bells to the tower, but a committee of churchmen will do the actual installation work. The committee is headed by Andrew Edwards and Andrew Meyer. As yet it is uncertain as to the time when the bells will be ready for use.

The church organist, E. T. Pingel, will play the bells from a manual installed in a room just below the tower. It is estimated that it will be possible to hear the bells for several miles. The Rev. A. G. Webbebing is pastor of the church.

DEMOCRACY AND A Free Press ARE INSEPARABLE

FREE GOVERNMENT cannot perish while a free press survives; on the other hand its days are numbered when freedom of the press disappears. When the Constitution of the United States was in process of adoption after the American Revolution, the people demanded that it guarantee freedom of the press, freedom of speech, and freedom of worship. First hand experience with despotism in Europe had taught them that liberty is an illusion unless people have the right to voice and print their own opinion, the right to nominate and elect candidates in opposition to the government, the right to pursue their own plans within the limits of the law. They knew that democracy and freedom of the press go hand in hand, one and inseparable. Freedom of the American press today is the first line of defense established for the security of free government in America. The welfare and independence of your newspaper is the welfare and independence of your nation.

This is the third of a series of twelve institutional advertisements sponsored by the California Institute of Technology Association and derived from an address delivered at Riverside on January 22nd by Dr. William B. Munro, of California Institute of Technology.

OLD ARTICLES ON EXHIBITION

ORANGE, May 4.—Store windows in Orange filled with interesting exhibits were still in place today. The large number of spinning wheels in perfect condition which were shown were of especial interest. A. L. Tomblin, fire chief, is exhibiting a watch which he claims has seen the longest continuous service of any watch in the community and which has been carried constantly since 1887.

Old Ring Exhibited

The timepiece belonged to Tomblin's grandfather and when the fire chief was in an automobile accident, the watch saved his life, the heavy gold case turning aside a part of the steering wheel which struck his chest. Mrs. Tomblin placed in an exhibit in the Huff store windows, her great grandmother's engagement ring of tiny pearls over 100 years old. In the same window Dr. Leon Patrick has what is claimed to be the oldest breech-loading gun in the county, one owned by his grandfather, W. A. Patrick and exhibited at the Philadelphia centennial in 1876 as an antique.

An interesting exhibit of guns is in the window of the John R. Ragan office on West Chapman avenue, and Dr. Roy Horton is showing several guns from his noted collection in the Kogler hardware store windows. Mrs. Art Merrick of Santa Ana, has an interesting exhibit of early glass in these windows.

Shawl Displayed

A big white platter in the Weaver store window is the property of Mrs. William Batt, who came through the Chicago fire. A beautiful Paisley shawl and old-time furniture makes an interesting display in the window of the Paul G. Muench office.

The Neely and the Harms store fronts were rebuilt to represent the log stores of pioneer days. First prize for windows went to the Watson Drug company which displayed the first perscription filled more than 40 years ago and an old-time pill roller and cork roller. Second prize went to Neely's and third to Gunther's, where a beautiful spinning wheel was featured.

Dr. A. H. Doman is displaying a number of yard and a half long baby dresses worn by prominent citizens. Pinson's have an exhibit of many old-time frocks and bathing suits.

Recipes Used Today at The Register's Cooking School

Hawaiian Special Ice Cream
 1/2 pt Excelsior whipping cream
 2 egg whites or 1 whole egg
 2/3 cup powdered sugar
 1 tsp vanilla

3/4 cup shredded pineapple
 1 small bottle shredded cherries
 Fold in the ingredients into the beaten egg and then into the cream which has been beaten thick but not stiff. Put into the freezing compartment of refrigerator and freeze on "fast freeze" for the first half hour, then return the control to normal running speed.

Spiced Layer Cake

3/4 cup Crisco
 1/4 cup sugar
 3 eggs
 3/4 cup Excelsior milk
 2 1/4 cups Globe A1 flour
 2 1/4 tbsps double acting B.P.

3/4 tsp cinnamon
 2/4 tsp mace
 4 tsp cloves

Blend the sugar and shortening thoroughly; add 1 egg at a time, beating after each addition. Alternate the sifted dry ingredients and the milk. Bake in 2 layers at 375 deg. F. about 30 minutes. Frost.

Grapenuts Apricot Bread

1 cup grapanuts

3 cups Excelsior milk
 3 cups sifted Globe A1 flour
 3 tbsps double acting baking powder
 1 1/2 tbsps salt
 1/2 cup sugar
 1 egg well beaten
 3 tbsps melted Crisco

1 cup finely cut dried apricots

Warm the milk and pour it over the grapanuts and cool. Sift the flour, measure, add baking powder, salt, sugar and sift again. Add the egg, shortening and apricots to the grapanuts mixture and stir well. Add the flour mixture, stirring only enough to dampen all the flour. Turn into greased loaf pan and make one hour at 375 deg. F.

Tomato and Clam Juice Cocktail

To three parts tomato juice add 1 part clam juice, a few dashes Tabasco sauce, juice of one lemon and salt to taste. Mix thoroughly and chill. Serve with wedges of lemon.

Shoulder Lamb Chops With Mushroom Dressing

Six rolled lamb chops (shoulder chops, boned and rolled). With a bit of shortening in the pan, brown chops well on both sides and place in a baking pan. Place a large spoonful of dressing on each chop. Bake 30 minutes in a moderate oven (350 deg.)

Mushroom Dressing

1 cup finely chopped mushrooms
 2 tbsps Excelsior butter
 1 tsp onion juice
 1/2 tsp finely chopped parsley
 1 tsp salt
 1/2 tsp celery salt
 1/2 tsp pepper

3 cups fine Weber's bread crumbs
 Sauté mushrooms in butter, add to bread cubes and combine with the other ingredients. Moisten with a little of the mushroom liquid.

Italian Artichokes

For each artichoke allow:

2 tbsps fine Weber's bread crumbs
 2 tbsps olive oil
 Salt, pepper
 1 dash Tabasco sauce
 1 slice lemon

Trim artichokes and remove half inch of the top. Spread petals slightly and fill with the above ingredient, all but the lemon slices which are placed on top.

Stand in a kettle and add enough water to come up about one inch around the vegetable. Cover closely and steam 45 minutes to one hour.

French Fried Potatoes

Wash and pare potatoes. Cut into lengthwise strips and soak in cold water until ready to fry.

Dry thoroughly in wire basket and plunge into hot Crisco heated to 400-410 degrees F. or until a cube of bread browns in 40 seconds.

Fry until delicately browned and tender. Test by removing one strip with a fork. Drain and serve hot.

Potatoes may be prepared ahead of time as above and fried at 350 deg. F. until just starting to brown. Remove, drain on paper, and allow to stand until a short time before serving. Then plunge into hot Crisco at 380-390 deg. F. and fry golden brown. In this method the potatoes can be prepared in the morning, leaving only the final browning to be done at dinner time.

Chocolate Refrigerator Cake

1 cup ground chocolate
 1 cup Excelsior milk

4 eggs
 2 tbsps gelatin

1/4 cup cold water
 1/2 cup powdered sugar

1 tsp vanilla
 2 dozen lady fingers

Cook the sugar, chocolate and milk over the low heat. Beat in the egg yolks. Add gelatin softened in cold water and vanilla. Cool. Add stiffly beaten whites. Have pan lined with lady fingers. Pour in the chocolate mixture. Set in refrigerator 24 hours before serving.

SAN BERNARDINO COUNTY DESERTS

Jimmie
Fidler
in Hollywood

HOLLYWOOD, May 4—I would like to see an old-fashioned, melodic-dramatic, ride-n'-cow boy western—one of those thrillers in which the hero single-handed, defeats an army of villains and the U. S. cavalry rides to the rescue in the last reel. I am getting fed up with sophisticated love and drawing room smart-talk, and I want a hunk of cinematic red meat for a change. But—and here is the irony—I can't get it in Hollywood.

Westerns made this industry and cowboy stars have kept many a studio from bankruptcy. They are still being produced, according to their time-honored formula, and they are still coining money—but elsewhere, not in Hollywood. Our theatres never book one and our glamour stars and culture proud producers prefer not to talk about them. Westerns, as far as Hollywood is concerned, are poor relations—tolerated but not recognized socially.

The other day William Boyd, the cowboy star of the Hop-along Cassidy series, was voted the second most popular western hero. The publicity department of the studio duly reported the award, but by actual check, I discovered that only two of the twenty-odd men in that department had ever seen Bill on the screen! In order to enjoy one of his pictures, I will have to go show-shopping in the hinterlands.

For more than six months, Ginger Rogers has worked before the cameras at least six, and more often, seven days a week. In that time, she has made three Class A pictures—and she is tired. Of late, most un-Gingerishly, she has been complaining to her studio bosses, demanding a lengthy rest. And, yesterday, she received a letter granting her permission to leave Hollywood. She promptly telephoned the "front office" to express her gratitude. "No need for thanks," the big boss said, heartily. "Go on and play—you've earned it. But be sure to report back within a WEEK!" I think I detected a note of irritation in Ginger's voice, as she told about it.

Allan Mowbray is one of my favorite people—the owner of the keenest sense of humor in all Hollywood. His quips are Filmville classics—and more than one haughty star has felt the lash of his wit. I remember the first scene he ever played with Marlene Dietrich, at that time the reigning queen of the Paramount lot. In that scene, she muffed her lines. Allan turned gravely to the director, "Is it too late to replace this German broad?" he demanded in a loud stage whisper—and even Dietrich laughed. Again: Katharine Hepburn told him in an unguarded moment that she would like to play both Mary and Elizabeth in "Mary of Scotland." "You couldn't do that," Mowbray said, seriously. "Why not?" she asked. "Because," he retorted. "You wouldn't know which character to upstage." I would like to introduce Allan to that man who coined the adage that Englishmen have no sense of humor.

Credit Rosalind Russell for one of the most amusing anecdotes of the week. Seems she parked her car in a filling station near Warner Brothers, where she is working for the first time, and asked the station attendant to wash and lubricate it. Calling for it that evening, she discovered that she had a cent in her purse. The attendant, deeply distrustful of all actors, refused to let her take the car on credit. "Then loan me a nickel," urged Rosalind, "so that I can call my friend Maggie Donovan—a hairdresser in the studio." The attendant beamed. "If you're a friend of Maggie's it's okay," he said. "Her credit's good with me—but I don't trust actors."

Last night, driving home from a Beverly Hills party, I stopped in the Trocadero for a snack. It was only one o'clock—certainly not late according to New York standards—but the most famous night-club in Hollywood was virtually deserted, the only other patrons being one mildly inebriated foursome. That's Hollywood—as early-to-bed a village as ever flourished in Kansas. But when I

SECRET MOVE FROM PACT WITH
ORANGE AND RIVERSIDE FLOOD
OBJECTIVE DROPS 'BOMBSHELL'

BULLETIN

Conference of representatives from Orange, Riverside and San Bernardino counties will be held in Riverside tomorrow afternoon in accordance with a call from Riverside county officials to discuss the flood fund plea situation. Chairman Willard Smith, of the local board of supervisors, M. N. Thompson, flood control engineer and A. A. Beard, highway superintendent, will be delegates from this area.

Orange county officials today expressed deep surprise at receiving notice from Riverside county officials that San Bernardino county has secretly withdrawn from the tri-county movement to obtain federal flood emergency funds, and has applied separately for an allocation of its own, without word to the sister counties.

This information came out of a clear sky, according to Chairman Willard Smith, of the Orange county supervisors, who represented this county in the tri-county organization formed in Los Angeles several weeks ago, for concerted effort to obtain emergency funds from the federal government.

Had Joined Group
Chairman C. E. Grier, of the San Bernardino county board, and other San Bernardino county officials had joined the tri-county organization, which was formed at request of Major Theodore Wyman Jr., division chief of army engineers in Los Angeles, and representatives in congress.

Major Wyman had pointed out to the group that it would be advisable to formulate a program of river protection upon which the three counties could agree, before presenting requests for funds to the government. Independent projects of one county, to which the other counties might object, would have slight chance of receiving approval, it was indicated.

Cooperation Urged
At that time, according to Chairman Smith, the San Bernardino county officials were entirely in accord with the plan of acting in concert with Riverside and Orange counties. Chairman Pittman, of Riverside county, was chosen head of the group, with E. A. Fulmer, of Riverside county, as secretary.

Senator W. G. McAdoo addressed the meeting, urging cooperative action, and Congressman Harry Sheppard, who also had wired advice that the three counties of his district get together on a program, was represented by proxy, B. Z. McKeehan, of Santa Ana, being his envoys.

Officials here say there still will be a question whether the status of common carrier would exempt the L and N company from operation of the county ordinance, but admit it would place the hog ranch in a stronger position to combat the ordinance.

Direct attack upon the garbage ordinance recently was repudiated when C. J. Lyons, Buena Park hog raiser, was denied a writ of habeas corpus after being arrested for violating the ordinance.

D. A. V. To Elect
Chiefs Tonight

Election of officers for the coming year will feature the meeting of the Jack Fisher chapter, Disabled Veterans of the World War, tonight at the K. of C. hall, according to David R. Day, present commander.

Delegates to the annual state convention, scheduled at San Jose June 20th, also will be elected, with a large attendance expected to make selections.

Next Sunday will mark the visitation of local members, as well as the Women's Auxiliary, to San Fernando hospital when all Orange county men and nurses will be visited, announced Herbert Thwaite in charge of this activity. Thwaite urged anyone requiring transportation to reach the hospital to call him and same will be furnished.

In place of the meeting on May 18 a picnic supper will be held at a nearby park when families will be entertained.

SON KILLED IN CRASH
A telegraphic message from Dionicio Perez, Calexico, to his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Aurelio Perez, 12271-2 West Second, informed them at 9 p. m. that another son, Joe Perez, had been killed in an automobile crash Sunday. Officers Ralph Pantuso and J. B. Stephen of Santa Ana police were called upon to deliver the tragic message.

left, I counted 14 never-say-die autograph hunters, still haunting the entrance to bag the signatures of that foursome. And that's Hollywood, too.

Nick Lukats, now an assistant director at Paramount, was a football star at Notre Dame. And he won undying fame in California several seasons ago by breaking loose for a touchdown against U. S. C., only to lose his pants, trip and fall short of the goal without an S.C. player near him. The other day he was introduced to Andy Devine, who glared at him balefully for a moment, then said, "So you're Nick Lukats! Mister, when you lost your pants in that football game—I lost mine, too!"

Doctors Give 'Signal Service'

"Have you a doctor aboard?" read signals flying from the Royal Netherlands freighter Luna, pictured above. Capt. H. Danielson on the bridge of the Puerto Rico liner Borrinquen, off the Florida coast, 30 hours out of San Juan, spied the flags, and turned his ship to the rescue. The life boat seen at right dropped over the side with Dr. Frederick C. Devordorff, ship's surgeon and Dr. T. L. Turner of Utica, N. Y., a passenger, aboard. They found Chief Officer Brooker of the Luna down with an acute stomach ailment, and performed a five-hour operation which was credited with saving the stricken man's life.

"HOUSE WITH NOBODY IN IT"
IS SOLD TO COUNTY FOR $10

The latest dodge in realty transfers was shown the county supervisors late yesterday by an unidentified Delhi resident who abducted a county dwelling and then offered the county $10 for it.

It worked. The supervisors decided to take the money, which already was in the hands of Welfare Director Jack W. Snow, who didn't know the source of the money, he said.

Learn It's Missing

The county, it seemed, didn't even know the dwelling was missing, until the $10 was sent in to the welfare department through Matt Lujan, unofficial mayor of Delhi. Snow said the missing house had been located several lots away from its original site.

The supervisors had no desire to recover the property, which had been deeded to the county by a relief client, subsequently deceased.

"Sale" Authorized

Another relief client was given possession of the house, and set it afire, after which he was sent to an asylum. Since then the house had been unoccupied.

On motion of Supervisor N. E. West, the board yesterday authorized Supervisor Steele Finley, welfare committeeman, to "sell" the house.

Table Tennis Club
In Prospect

A table tennis club at the Santa Ana Y. M. C. A. is the prospect following last Saturday night's successful tournament which served to arouse new interest in the game.

A meeting is called for Friday afternoon at 5:30 at the Y.M.C.A. to make plans for such a club. It was announced today by General Secretary Ralph C. Smedley. This club will be open to both men and women who are interested in ping pong on Wednesday evenings at this time, and the club will plan its schedule accordingly. As soon as the membership is determined, it is the intention to launch a "ladder" tournament, in which each player has the right to challenge any other player, climbing the "ladder" as he wins games.

Smedley stated that the organization meeting Friday is open to all who are interested, both men and women.

COUNTY CHECKS
HOSPITAL CARE

The county supervisors late yesterday allowed one claim of Los Angeles county, partially and tentatively, for hospitalization of an Orange county resident, and denied two other claims because the matter of residence could not be verified.

The Los Angeles county claim of $170 for hospitalization of an Orange county man, recipient of Old Age pension, from February 26 to April 11, was tentatively approved, up to April 1, the date when the beneficiary acquired citizenship in Los Angeles county, local officials decided. Approval was made conditional upon approval of the per diem allowance by Dr. Harry Zaiser, superintendent of the Orange county hospital, to whom it was referred.

Filing Authorized

Two claims of $32 and $45.50 respectively, based upon hospitalization of expectant mothers in the Los Angeles county hospital in 1937, were rejected. The patients had reported previous residence in Orange county, but local records failed to corroborate.

According to Welfare Director Jack W. Snow, filing of such hospitalization claims by one county upon another county, for service to residents of the latter county, is authorized under the state welfare institutions code.

Asks Aid

Lorenzo Morales, representing the Free Methodist Mexican mission at Atwood, advised the board yesterday that the mission church and parsonage had been washed 400 feet by the recent flood, and now rests in the center of a street.

Assistance was asked. It was told that the county cannot rebuild the mission, but would and would move the buildings back to their original site, or would raze them and return the material to the site. It was agreed that the board would handle one alternative or the other.

Home In Santa Ana

That recent reunion in Santa Ana, of two brothers, J. C. Courtney, 1102 West Pine street, and Warren F. Courtney, after a separation of more than 30 years, has resulted in the purchase of a home here by the Warren F. Courtneys who with their son, William, will live at 920 West Myrtle street.

Warren F. Courtney is a retired chief pharmacist's mate in the U.S. navy. He and Mrs. Courtney and their son, a sophomore in high school, came to Santa Ana because of the family tie with the J. C. Courtney left from Kingman, Kans., for California.

WOMEN'S ACTIVITIES

Musical Arts
To Entertain
With At Home

An "at home," with all the hospitality that the term connotes, will be staged tonight at 8 o'clock in the Y. W. clubrooms, by Santa Ana Musical Arts club, which is inviting all its members and friends to join in a discussion of plans for next year's Behymer-Wilson Artist series program.

Mrs. J. Leslie Steffenson (Mary Batten Steffenson), club president, and Miss Ruth Armstrong of the program committee, today announced that they had planned a special musical program to lend interest to the informal evening. They will present as guest artist, Florence Newkirk (Mrs. Dana Newkirk) of Fullerton, one of Orange county's most brilliant pianists.

A graduate of University of Southern California's music department under Mrs. Perry, Mrs. Newkirk also studied under Olga Steele and has taken various summer courses under different well known artist teachers, including Pallo Gallico. She is a favorite in the county's musical circles, and for tonight has chosen a group of piano compositions of such variety that all musical tastes will be satisfied.

She will include "Dedication" by Schumann; the Brahms "Intermezzo in A flat," and the very modern "Fountain" by Ravel.

Musical Arts members have extended invitation to everyone interested in the coming year's concert course, to be present tonight and enjoy the short program and the discussion of artists to be selected for the course. Mrs. Emil Wagner and her refreshment committee will arrange the social hour to climax the evening.

Hollywood at Work is Described by Junior Ebell Speaker

Hollywood was stripped of its glamour last night when Lillian Snell, wife of the Hollywood publicity writer, Paul Snell, told Junior Ebell society members about a hard-working community where the making of motion pictures has become an industry rated as the fourth largest in the world.

Having been connected with the motion picture industry as director, casting and publicity writer, Mrs. Snell drew on her own experiences and impressions in describing motion pictures, their producers and their stars. Production at an average studio goes on at the rate of $1000 an hour, in addition to salaries of stars, directors and technicians, the speaker pointed out.

A day in a star's life was described as Mrs. Snell told of the various demands upon an actor's time as well as his salary. General information on studio routine was followed by more specific description of some of the stars, their outstanding traits or their idiosyncrasies. Herself a vivid personality, with flaming auburn hair, it was not difficult to believe that Mrs. Snell brought a message directly from the studios to Junior Ebell society. She was introduced by Mrs. Robert Guild, program chairman.

Following the talk was a tea interval arranged by Mrs. Donald Harwood and a committee composed of Mesdames Walter Bacon, Hans Wahlgren, Robert U. Smith and Bruce Anderson, assisted by Mrs. Worth Babbitt. Miss Elizabeth Smith and Mrs. George Walker, newly-elected president and vice-president of Junior Ebell, poured tea. Cecil Brunner roses and bouquet tapers formed an effective centerpiece for the table, at either end of which were miniature May-poles.

Old Friends Assemble

In Compliment
To Miss Jean McAuley

It seemed especially appropriate that a group of close friends of Mrs. John McAuley should be the first to assemble in compliment to her daughter, Miss Jean McAuley following the announcement of the latter's plans to be married soon to Chris Ema. This first party took place yesterday afternoon in the W. W. Hoy home, 1225 French street.

Entertaining with Mrs. Hoy were Mrs. Herbert Walker and Mrs. Arthur McFadden. Mrs. John Henderson provided and arranged the many lovely flowers which graced the home. Especially effective was a bridal bouquet of snowballs and white wattle lilies.

Guests spent the afternoon emboiling tea towels for Miss McAuley, who was showered with miscellaneous gifts later in the day.

In serving refreshments, the three hostesses had assistance of Miss Flora McFadden, Miss Evelyn Walker, and Mrs. Eugenie MacKenney. Invited to share the affair with the three hostesses were Miss Jean McAuley and her mother and sisters, Mrs. John McAuley, Mrs. William Hill and Miss Betty McAuley; Mrs. Emma's mother and sister, Mrs. Mesdames John Henderson, Elsie Millman, Frank Was, Harry Warner, A. E. Kelly, C. E. Harris, Eugenie MacKenney, and the Misses Wilma Hoy, Isabel Little, Eva Marshall, May Puhlan, Evelyn Walker, Flora McFadden, all of this vicinity.

Musical Arts members have extended invitation to everyone interested in the coming year's concert course, to be present tonight and enjoy the short program and the discussion of artists to be selected for the course. Mrs. Emil Wagner and her refreshment committee will arrange the social hour to climax the evening.

Mothers Are Honored
By P. E. O. Chapter

An advance observance of Mother's Day was the distinguishing feature of Monday afternoon's meeting of Chapter DI, P. E. O., when four hostesses joined in receiving members and their special guests in the E. S. Gilbert home, 420 South Main street.

Mrs. Gilbert, Mrs. C. C. Fuller, Mrs. Hugh J. Plumb and Mrs. O. Scott McFarland formed the friendly hostess group, and paid special compliment to the mothers by garlanding the home with roses and iris blooms in variety. The program was planned with the guests in mind, and when Miss Virginia Pritchard was introduced as soloist, her choice of songs included a beautiful lullaby, "My Mother Bids Me Bind My Hair," and other numbers suited to the occasion. Everyone enjoyed her clear sweet soprano voice, and the accompaniments played by Miss Ruth Armstrong.

Enjoyable too were the reviews given by Mrs. John Tessmann of various books of special interest to women, her list including "Winter in April," "Nutmeg," "Remember" and "Katrina." The mothers so graciously entertained, shared many reminiscences of youthful days of interest to all, during the tea hour.

Mrs. Franklin G. West and Mrs. S. W. Nau were asked to preside at the tea table, which spread with Italian linen cloth edged with flit lace, blazed with the mass of vivid nasturtiums used as a centerpiece.

Chapter President Reports on Conclave

Reports of California P.E.O. convention held late last month in Los Angeles were given by Mrs. R. R. Caldwell, president of chapter G. P. E. O. Monday afternoon at a meeting in the home of Mrs. P. H. Marshall, Midway City.

Mrs. Caldwell's report came as a highlight of the afternoon program, which followed the serving of luncheon on trays. Introduced as a guest was Mrs. M. G. Jones of Huntington Beach.

The next meeting will be held Monday, May 16 in the home of Mrs. Wendell Hell.

Hermosa O. E. S.

Recognition of his approaching birthday anniversary by Hermosa chapter O. E. S. came as a pleasant surprise to Worthy Patron Fred Pope Monday night when the members met for covered dish dinner in Masonic temple dining room in advance of formal chapter session.

Mrs. Helen Lurker, worthy matron, had designed the decorative plan of the tables, where Star colors and baskets of bright flowers gave a lovely effect. The officers' table where the worthy patron was seated, was centered with a large silver star resting on green ferns, its five points ending in electric bulbs in the appropriate star colors. Candles repeated this color motif, and surmounting the whole striking effect was a decorated birthday cake.

Mrs. Lurker had the assistance of Dolly Pope and Dr. James Workman in developing the decorative plan, while serving on the dinner committee were Ed. Gritton, Ethel Park; Bertha E. Meyers, Tulara; Corrine J. Davis, Auburn, Neb., and Cleona Chandler, Santa Ana chapter.

At the conclusion of the stated session, officers left the darkened chapter room to return bearing colonial bouquets, lighted by flashlights. The big cluster of red roses carried by Mrs. Lurker, centered with a large flashlight, was the gift of her and her husband, C. M. Lurker, to Fred Pope. A friendly talk by Dr. James Workman was climaxed with his presentation to the patron of the birthday gift of his other officers.

Bridge was played for the remainder of the evening. Scoring in auction and suitably rewarded were Lois Pearson and Roy H. Seaver, Kate Sutton and Aimee Crawford. Similar ratings were made in contract by Mrs. J. E. Gowen, Ed. Gritton, Gladys Brown and Cornelia Harwood.

birds, orioles, bluebirds, how could a boy with a heart find it possible to kill one of them? When he brings one down he has a dead bird in his hand. He has murdered one of God's loveliest servants, one of Man's best helpers, to say nothing of the beauty he has destroyed. The world is the poorer for rearing a boy like that.

I don't understand that kind of boy. Boys are sporting youngsters. They don't hurt helpless

SET DATES FOR LAGUNA FESTIVAL OF ARTS

WOMAN'S CLUB SITE SECURED

LAGUNA BEACH, May 4.—Ending a period of uncertainty, during which the fate of Laguna's annual Festival of Arts remained in doubt, announcement was made yesterday that the festival will be held as usual this year, with dates fixed from July 29 to Aug. 8.

Negotiations for use of the Woman's club building and grounds, adjoining the festival site on Third street, have been completed and a temporary stage, similar to that erected last year, will be built for display of the "Pageant of the Masters," recreations in real life of famous paintings and statues.

The forthcoming festival will be the seventh in the series, which have attracted thousands of visitors annually. Last year the festival events were photographed by several motion picture concerns, the resultant sound filming being shown throughout the United States.

REPORT S. A. MAN HURT IN ACCIDENT

Charles Backman, reported resident of Santa Ana, was in Sacramento hospital at Sacramento today, suffering from burns and bruises received in an automobile accident early this morning on Auburn boulevard near North Sacramento where Backman's companion, Frank E. Baker, 26, Reno butcher, was killed.

That was the report to The Register from Sacramento, where the coroner is conducting an investigation. Baker was killed and Backman, injured, when a car driven by Baker, overturned and burst into flames after hitting a boulevard bridge.

Child Victim Of Gun Fights Death

PHOENIX, May 4.—(UP)—Marguerite Grant, 16, shot in the stomach by her mother who killed her eight-year-old sister before committing suicide yesterday, remained in critical condition today.

Surgeons continued their fight to save her after administering two blood transfusions and operating.

Her mother, Mrs. F. N. Grant, 36, wife of an Arizona highway department engineer, shot and killed Eloise Grant, eight, as the little girl slept beside her toys and dolls and then wounded Marguerite before firing a bullet into her own brain.

Neighbors said Mrs. Grant had been extremely nervous since a car was driving struck and injured a small child several months ago. She had quarreled with her children recently in efforts to persuade them to sever their friendships with some playmates.

Newport Man Dies At Home

John Kitchens, 45, a native of Preston, England, who has resided at 6502 Coast boulevard, Newport Beach, for the past three years since coming to Orange county, died suddenly of a heart attack at his home today.

Mr. Kitchen, a salesman for the Union Oil company, came to California 16 years ago. He was unmarried.

Funeral notice will be announced later by Brown and Wagner funeral home.

FIGHT VICTIM IN SERIOUS CONDITION

100 COUNTY ENGLISH SAVANTS HEAR OF MOTION PICTURE AIDS

Motion pictures have become a vital part of our modern existence. The public schools are recognizing this fact to the extent that the use and appreciation of them are being studied from an educational standpoint.

These conclusions were drawn last night when the Orange County English Teachers' association met at Daniger's for a banquet under the guidance of Miss Florence Springer, president of the Southern California Association, Teachers of English. This was the first regional group meeting of this kind and proved a splendid start on a continued program of this nature. Nearly 100 English teachers throughout Orange county were present.

Help In Education

Richard Lewis of Glendale Junior college, was the guest speaker. He presented many interesting and scientific phases of the study of motion pictures in school work.

"To test creative imagination," he says, "motion pictures can be invaluable in composition, art, music and science classes."

Committees of teachers and students are cooperating with motion picture companies in making careful selections of the better films.

This is developing into a service of definite value to the future type of pictures, and will be an important step in public education, he pointed out.

Committees Named

Mrs. Maurine Scott of the Willard Junior High school was elected president of the Orange County Regional group which voted to have at least two meetings a year on the institute plan.

The following committee served on the first regional group meeting: Miss Florence Springer, Manual Arts High school, Los Angeles, who is president of the English Teachers' association of Southern California; Mrs. Ruth Moody, Fullerton High school, in charge of invitations; Mrs. J. W. Utter, Jr., Anaheim High school, in charge of program; Mrs. Eleanor Casady, Garden Grove High school, in charge of dinner arrangements.

The hostesses presiding at the various tables included, Mrs. Seward, Anaheim High school; Mrs. Grace Knipe, Santa Ana Junior college; Mrs. French, Fullerton High school; Miss Linde, Fullerton High school; Miss Ferne Summer, Orange High school; Miss Borum, Tustin High school; Mrs. Rosemary Bennett, Brea-Olinda High school; Miss Lavenia Scott, Santa Ana High school.

The case had baffled law enforcement agencies since 1928 and had gained nationwide attention. The warden said he was unable to reveal details of the confession until after another interview with Mrs. Smith tonight.

Getting Somewhere

"This whole thing is a nightmare," McCauley said. "But I must admit that at last it appears we are getting somewhere. All the details are before us now—details that heretofore have never come to light. We must find at least part of the body, however."

Decato Earl Mayer, son of Mrs. Smith, also allegedly was involved in the crime, McCauley said. Mayer is serving a life sentence as an habitual criminal. Mrs. Smith was to be released next Monday after serving eight years on a grand larceny conviction.

Intercept Letter

Bassett, en route to the Orient, disappeared in Seattle. Later Mayer and his mother were arrested in Oakland, Calif., with the naval officer's car in their possession.

McCauley said a letter written by Mrs. Smith to someone outside the prison contained information which prompted him to question her again about the crime. The letter was intercepted Saturday. McCauley refused to divulge the name of the person to whom it was written.

Letter On Flood Control Is Filed

A letter from the Laguna Canyon Emergency Flood Control committee to the county supervisors, demanding "confidential information" on flood control plans in Laguna canyon, was filed by the board without action late yesterday.

The letter cited statements assertedly made to the committee in a communication from Flood Control Engineer M. N. Thompson, referring to "strictly confidential" information "not given to the newspapers." The committee requested such information for its own guidance.

Farley Bans "Ken" From Mails

WASHINGTON, May 4.—(UP)—Postmaster General James A. Farley today denied application of the magazine "Ken" for second class mailing privileges and barred the May 5 issue from the mails because of an article entitled "Los Angeles Sporting Girl."

The semi-monthly magazine has been issued under a temporary permit which allowed second class mailing, but required the publishers to deposit full rates. A refund of the difference would have been made had a permanent permit been granted.

Postoffice officials said the magazine might apply for mailing privileges again on the next issue. The order does not affect newsstand sale of the magazine.

AGREES TO WED

In possession of a marriage license, Aubrey House, Santa Ana Negro, went into Santa Ana justice court today where Judge Kenneth Morrison dismissed morals charge filed against House. House, accused of committing a statutory offense against a minor Negro girl, agreed to marry the girl, officials said.

Sardine Industry Growth Reviewed

The sardine industry in California, is the Cinderella of the fishing industry. Prior to 1916, the sardine catch was hardly worth mentioning, but during the World War, contracts for European delivery of canned sardines, commenced an industry which now brings millions into the state. During the 1935-36 season, sardines were caught at the rate of fifteen tons per day for every day in the year, or sixty-five tons per hour, more than ten a minute for 365 days. Translating tons into numbers of fish, during the 1935-36 season, the sardine catch exceeded eleven million fish per day every day of the year, nearly one-half million fish per hour, or 130 fish for every second in the entire year. During the fishing year, more than four billion sardines were caught. The catching and canning of sardines has developed into one of the major fishing industries of the nation.

The sardine is a fish of high oil content and many millions of sardines have been converted into oil and fish meal used for fertilizer. The catching of edible fish for the purpose of converting them into fertilizer and fish oil, riles the sport fishermen, who feel that fish are to be eaten and not used as fertilizer.

In 1933 the flight from California to New York required 33 hours; in 1930 it was 30 hours. This year with Douglas DC-3s and only three stops United flies from the Pacific coast to New York in 15 1-3 hours.

Drusillus, son of the Roman Emperor Claudius, strangled on a spear he had thrown in the air and attempted to catch in his mouth, in 23 A.D. The offending spear tree, after due process of law, was sentenced to be uprooted and burned.

SPOTLIGHT CRUSADE

The organization, by press agents, of a "Blond Brigade" in New York for the stated purpose of preventing war arouses the same reaction in the stomach, strangely enough, as would the sight of blonds, for sweet publicity's sake, gaily coaxing the boys to the field of slaughter.

Anyway, the story released about these show girls describes a proposed plan of action that sounds about as effective as a woolen hair comb. In the event war actually breaks out, the girls propose merely to station themselves in attractive poses just in front of our own trenches, facing the enemy. Presumably the idea is that nobody could bring himself to shoot in the direction of a beautiful woman.

If the girls had studied history they never would have let such a suicidal suggestion escape their lips. If they're really sincere about the thing they might better distribute themselves in the same attractive poses in the camp of the enemy. Then while our opponents are busy fighting among themselves, we can simply walk in and take things over.

ACCIDENT PREVENTION

The 61 stock casualty insurance and surety companies comprising the membership of the Association of Casualty and Surety Executives, have just announced an extensive program for accident control, to be carried out through the National Conservation Bureau.

The companies have subscribed funds to be spent in the study and prevention of all classifications of accidents, notably industrial and automobile. Research in the control of occupational diseases and the development of techniques to control home accidents also are contemplated. The bureau plans to co-operate with Federal, state and municipal authorities, and with other agencies in the field of accident prevention and control.

A number of major projects are to be undertaken. Two "laboratory cities" are to be selected for experimental and test work in traffic accident control. Forty thousand copies of "The Handbook of Industrial Safety Standards," a manual of standard safety practices for periodic inspections of motor vehicles by states and cities is to be developed with the aid of the American Association of Motor Vehicle Administrators. The bureau will work jointly with the International Association of Chiefs of Police in publishing a practical handbook on traffic engineering for police. Safe driving instruction for children of licensable age will be promoted, through the distribution of a high school textbook, "Man and the Motor Car."

This extensive program is a scientific approach to the difficult accident control problem. We have found that sporadic safety campaigns are useless, and that momentary enthusiasms produce no lasting good. Safety work that gets results must be carried on quietly and steadily, under expert supervision, year in and year out. The insurance industry's new program deserves the widest public co-operation and support.

FAIRNESS—OR CONFISCATION

The government's left hand knows not what its right hand doeth! That seems to be a pertinent proverb in the light of conflicting testimony on the policy that should actuate the TVA in purchasing private electric properties in the Southeast.

A majority of the TVA directors, judging from their official and unofficial observations, speeches and public letters, insist on buying private electric utilities, in whole or in part, on the so-called "prudent investment" theory. They apparently are unwilling to take state utility commission figures as an arbiter of true value; they discount "going concern" value, and seem bent on taking over companies, or parts of companies desired, at a forced-sale price that will leave helpless investors holding the sack.

By contrast with this, J. D. Ross, who has been appointed to take charge of the Federal hydro-electric project at Bonneville, was asked recently for his opinion on the proper TVA policy in purchasing private property. Mr. Ross stated: "The only possible offer must come from the public agency that wishes to buy. Such an offer would be made after a study of the value of property from all angles instead of merely from physical valuation. The question is not simply what is the value of a piece of wire or a power house? It is what is the value of a going concern? The wire or the generator is of no value except in the operation of a business concern."

The principal question is the value that can be given to buy out a competitor. This considers a study of the gross income, the net income, the cost per kilowatt and kilowatt hour for generation, transmission and distribution, the original value and the depreciation that should be applied to it, and the present value as shown by any available valuations."

Need more be said to show the astonishing difference of opinion between government officials? On the one hand are those who favor a policy which amounts to virtual confiscation. On the other are those, like Mr. Ross, who favor fairness, and scientific valuation of properties the government wishes to purchase. It must be decided, finally and soon, which policy the government is going to pursue. If the government is going on with its socialistic program, the Ross method of eliminating private business is the only fair way.

News Behind the News

WASHINGTON, May 4.—Washington is a circus maximus these days with more rings going than an entire nation can watch at once. . . . Even with the proprietor away. . . . Trapeze acts here, lion tamers, there, bareback riding, musical seals, wild men efficient ringmasters. . . . But a serious and some grim business order and purpose behind it all. . . . You will have to turn your head fast, however, or you will miss the best of it. . . .

Several of the New Deal thinkers get their heads together after hours in a downtown club, decide the president's anti-monopoly program is the composite handiwork of trust-busters Jackson and Arnold, with economic contributions from Adolph Berle, Leon Henderson and Commissioner Haynes, but Not, in fact, the work of any of them. It is further decided the boss is using entirely too much of his own judgment these days. His suggestors, comparing notes, find they recommended a much softer tone, without, of course altering objectives—"Japanese diplomacy" as one of them calls it. They are not entirely pleased. . . . Congressional authorities gather around the ash tray in the lounge and those who have been at the White House during the past week compare notes. They, too, agree Mr. R. is thinking far more independently than he should. They decide his game is to balance all political elements again, right, left and center; think it will be a good trick if he does it. . . .

A dozen Democratic senators glide into their luncheon chairs around a circular table to plan their work on the spend-lend program. Old familiar faces: Byrd, Gerry, Bailey, Burke, Copeland, King, Carter Glass. They put their heads together, decide their most capable fight-planner Harry Byrd is to lead; designate Peter Gerry as "whip," a sort of cowboy to round them up. They agree to wait until they see the whites of the spend-lend eye being cast in the house before they fire, but on one thing they are certain in advance: Municipalities and states must be made to contribute something. That will be the fight. . . .

Mary Norton is telling news men not to print it yet but she has pledges from enough state delegations to assure 218 signatures for the wage-hour bill. She names Massachusetts, New Jersey, New York, Ohio and Illinois. News men take it, doubt it. They know the only reason the signatures were obtained last time was because the Ludlow war-referendum resolution was up and legislators traded mutual support—"log rolling" they call it. This time the only trading prospect is with Roosevelt for some of the spend-lend money for their states' pet projects. Press room odds are 3 to 1 she does not get 218, and 10 to 1 that if she does, southern senators will filibuster the bill to death when it gets to the Senate. . . .

An administration congressional leader is stopped in the capitol corridor and asked what all this shooting at the press by Mr. Roosevelt and Senator Minton is about. What got them so excited? The administration has fared better from the press as a whole perhaps, than Hoover, Coolidge, Wilson. " Didn't you get that play," says the leader in a tone implying everyone should have understood that. "The spend-lend program was not received as well as expected and they think the press is responsible. The cartoonists especially got under his hide." . . .

As this writer is not a professor of economics, he must be excused from a discussion of so complicated a science and stick to his thesis—that the planned purpose of the article copied in The Register and applauded editorially under the caption of 'Labor's Most Vicious Enemy' from Liberty magazine, is obviously 'to make out a case against the income tax' and to induce 'labor' to work for its repeal. The pretended concern for the workingman fools no one! So this precious 'article' starts by telling us, 'A group of oilmen went to a California capitalist, and proposed to make him richer' if he would let them have $750,000 'to buy labor with.' In real business—as all sane people know—"labor" is merely incidental to the purpose of business—which is—to make profits. No profits, no labor! Then comes into the story the group of business men who lay out a subdivision—with no apparent idea of its risks and rewards, for they ended up in bankruptcy, fired the workmen, and blamed the income tax! That is the fiction! Here is the fact: They proved incompetent, and inefficient, and so they lost their own investment and also the "so much down and so much a month" of their victims. Then comes the group of California wildcat oil-well drillers. These speculators, after years of losses, which they expected the government to finance by a tax rebate when they finally earned $600,000, from the tax assessed against their earnings, because, of course—they wanted "buy labor," reaped the reward of inefficiency and incompetence, "by paying off the workers, and going home." That's the fiction. Here's the fact. These men took no ordinary precautions to inform themselves of the tax procedure. They had quarter-deck ambitions and steerage-abilities. What Led Up to the Killing

By ERIK MCKINLEY ERIKSSON
Professor of History, University of Southern California

No event in recent political history has been more surprising than the action of the House of Representatives in killing the administration reorganization bill. Yet, looking back at the events which led to the killing, there is little mystery and little ground for suspecting nefarious plottings. Forced through the Senate by White House pressure, the bill was expected to pass the lower house with much less difficulty. In fact, New Deal leaders declared that a vote against the measure would be equivalent to repudiation of the President. Nevertheless, a sufficient number of the Chief Executive's erstwhile followers joined with the Republicans and a few others to deal the death blow.

The defeat of this pet measure of the President cannot be explained merely by charging it to lobbying and propaganda. Certainly, his opponents were no more active in lobbying and in spreading propaganda than were those who favored it. Both sides used personal pressure on congressmen; both used the radio and the press to influence public opinion. Those opposing the bill apparently appealed more effectively to the public as measured by the flood of telegrams which poured into Washington demanding that it be killed.

Had there been real merit in the reorganization program, it would probably have been adopted, regardless of this opposition. No one familiar with the development of the federal government would seriously question the need of reorganizing its administrative agencies. Republican and Democratic Presidents alike have called at

General Hugh S. JOHNSON SAYS

WASHINGTON, D. C.—Believe it or not, I get sicker even than any of my customers of cracking down, day after day, on each new Presidential policy.

It isn't merely affection for an old and once very close friend. It is that I know so well the terrific pressure of that awful office. I use the adjective in its accurate and not everyday sense. It should be spelled "awful." To sit in that seat of Godlike power and know that any error in daily action may send thousands or, in extreme cases, millions to poverty, prison or even death—to sit there charged with preserving the principles and traditions of such nation as this—in some part, an agent for the destiny of the world—the successor of heroes—Washington, Jefferson, Jackson, Lincoln—it is a proud stewardship, but it is ordeal by torture.

In the democratic process, no man can use this veritable mantle of martyrdom to shield himself from criticism of every action. While the President has winced at some shafts, he has never tried that. I doubt if any column has been more poignantly critical than this one, and yet he once said to me:

"I not only don't object, but I agree with about 70 per cent of what you say. For various reasons of responsibility and compromise in this office, I cannot dictate my own course of action. To move forward I must accommodate myself to more opinions than one."

I am pretty hard-boiled but that one brought a lump in my throat—and it wasn't in the least intended as a self-dramatization of a "pale martyr in his shirt of fire." It was a statement of a simple fact of statesmanship. I got a panning only for overemphasis and exaggeration—which is a matter of judgement to me.

Similarly, a worried capitalist in radio made a tentative remark about my critical broadcasts. He got an immediate response that there was no objection except overemphasis and an observation that enemies got cracked just as hard. The constantly-repeated rumor that the White House had me "taken off the air" is sheer imagination. It is true that I wasn't put back on, because business is afraid of this Administration. But that the fear is justified by anything the White House or the broadcasting companies ever did or intimated, is pure schmooze.

I confidently believe the Administration has gone plumb loco in policy and that it is the duty of a commentator to say what he believes. But it is the reverse of pleasant to keep hammering at a man so sorely beset under such overwhelming duties and responsibilities.

One repeated assertion that the President is now "desperate" hurts me in the neck. He once said to me:

"I try as hard as I can and to the very limit of my ability to do what seems best to me. That is all I can do and when I am done for the day, I turn the page and close my mind to worry."

Make no mistake about that. It is no crocheted motto. It is a basic principle of the man's character. He neither is nor ever has been or will be either desperate or down-hearted. If it were otherwise, he would not be alive today.

Many people are growing weary of the well-known charm, the golden voice and the permanent smile. To me these are the least pleasing items of the President's personal style. Far more important, and aside from sneaky political antics, he is at heart a thoroughbred.

QUIET WEDDING ASKED

SAN FRANCISCO, (UPI)—Miss Mary Saponaro, 68 Park Avenue, Brooklyn, has written officials of the 1939 Golden Gate and International exposition for permission to be married on Treasure Island, site of the exposition, on the opening day, Feb. 18, 1939. "Just a nice quiet wedding, you know, no fuss or bother," was the request. Officials have agreed to everything except its discretion to the President.

Administrative reorganization can be accomplished through legislative action. It is up to Congress to decide what should be done instead of delegating its discretion to the President.

This last factor, more than any other, explains the defeat of the reorganization bill. Events in Europe apparently have made people fear that "it can happen here." Reorganization of the administration is needed more than ever but the country is not willing to accomplish it through another drastic delegation of power to the President. The people have come to see that every reform attained by increasing executive power is another step toward the European type of dictatorship.

Administrative reorganization can be accomplished through legislative action. It is up to Congress to decide what should be done instead of delegating its discretion to the President.
